SWABIR SHARIFF

Founder & Executive Director, The Good Guides

swabir.shariff@thegoodguides.org · thegoodguides.org · linkedin.com/in/swabir · Toronto, Canada

ABOUT

Before founding The Good Guides, he served as a Director of Security in Scarborough, leading 24/7 security operations for an essential-service shopping centre. Swabir Shariff founded The Good Guides in 2020 in Scarborough, Toronto — a grassroots non-profit incorporated in Ontario built on a simple conviction: young people follow mentors who come from their own community. The organization runs youth mentoring, youth engagement, violence prevention and co-op placement programs, led by a team of some 20 core volunteers and mentors. Since 2020 it has mentored 10,000+ young people across Toronto and helped direct over a million dollars in investment into The Good Guides and other Scarborough youth initiatives.

His philosophy, in his own words: to change the starting line for young people — not just cheer them on from it.
